Recaro Automotive Seating Introduces Speed V – the Performance Seat for American Sports Cars

At this year’s NAIAS, Recaro Automotive Seating introduces the all-new Speed V, a true bolt-in seat kit designed specifically for American sports cars. This seat combines the look, feel and support of a racing generation seat with the comfort for every day driving.

Detroit, Michigan, January 16, 2018. – “Our new Speed V has everything a sport seat must have – even more when we talk about iconic sports cars,” says Martin C. Klein, head of Recaro Automotive Seating. “Its distinctive styling was inspired by the classic Recaro racing shells, designed for firm and dynamic support during high-performance driving.”

Soccer and baseball fans all around the world will also recognize Recaro’s Speed model as the world’s most popular stadium seat for players’ and coach benches.

The Speed V on display features the new Recaro cushion victory design using advanced performance materials ranging from premium leather to sport cloth. It has an integrated headrest, Recaro’s proprietary integrated lumbar support, aggressive bolstering for great support during spirited driving and pass-throughs for 3- or 4-point safety belts. This Speed edition comes with four available accent colors: red, blue, yellow and cloud gray.

SOP of the Recaro Speed V will be in April 2018.
