

RECARO Automotive Seating

RECARO Aftermarket RECARO Pole Position SL Edition

What's Different:

The RECARO Pole Position SL Edition 2018 is developed as an exclusive purebred performance shell, licensed for driving fun on the open road.

The seat combines a distinctive performance design and premium craftsmanship with pure riding performance – for individual, cool interiors. Its slim single-piece shell made of GRP provides perfect performance ergonomics and optimum body support.

Why it Matters:

RECARO shell seats are a perfect match for cars that offer a thrilling, controlled driving experience. This existing aftermarket product can be developed for OE projects.

The Details:

- Outstanding riding performance: The seat is the main touchpoint between human body and vehicle (HMI). Due to anatomical shaped seat structure and the low H-point, the road feedback results in outstanding riding performance.
- Exceptional lightweight design: The slim single-piece shell weighs approx. 7.0 kg (without sidemount and baseframe). Its carbon variant even with a weight of only 4.5 kgs – which makes it the lightest street legal shell seat available globally.
- Aftermarket and end consumer knowledge: The close connection of RECARO to the aftermarket and the end consumer result in consumer-oriented products and applications.
- Exceptional comfort: Shell conforms to the body like a glove and offers outstanding comfort and support.
- Superior design and craftsmanship: The RECARO logo is represented on the needle and stitched on the headrest. The exclusive carbon leather and Dinamica cover has bright green leather bands combined with decorative black stitching. Also includes a premium badge with build number of seat.

